About the presentation:

You're at a crossroads when it comes to years of genealogy research: should you delete an entire branch of your family tree due to faulty research? Or is there a better way to correct family history research errors and salvage information that took years to find?

The presentation will include:

- The Problem of Bad Research
- Bad Research or Sloppy Research?
- Mapping Out a Correction Plan
- Correcting Genealogical Research Errors
- Salvaging the Branch
- Resource List
