After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing the link to join the session.

About the Presentation: Finding genealogy records in Ireland can be confusing. There is no "one-stop" site for all your research needs and different websites offer different records. Follow along as we research an Irish couple and learn all we can about them. Besides well-known records, like census, civil, church, and land, infrequently used resources like placenames, local sources and mapping tools will be covered.

About the Presenter: Pamela Guye Holland lives in Swampscott, Massachusetts, and has been researching family roots found in Ireland, Massachusetts, New York, Ohio, and Germany for almost twenty years. She is currently the co-president of The Irish Ancestral Research Association (TIARA). Pam works for Research Services at the New England Historic Genealogical Society (NEHGS) and as the US-based genealogist in the Green Room at <https://youririshheritage.com/>. Her research specialties are Irish and Genetic Genealogy. Her website is www.GenealogyByPamHolland.com.
