Getting the Most Out of Researching on Ancestry

This presentation is a basic overview of how to use Ancestry's Canadian website, Ancestry.ca, but there are many useful tips and hints for anyone starting out on Ancestry no matter which country you are researching in.

10:15 - 11:30 a.m.

Ancestry Online Trees

Online trees are a great way to organize your finds and connect with other family historians who share your ancestry and may have information to share. If you already have your tree on Ancestry or maybe you're reluctant to put up your tree publicly online, this presentation will show you tips and techniques to make the most out of your family tree at Ancestry.

Noon - 1:30 p.m.

Using Ancestry DNA to Power Your Family Tree Research

Lesley Anderson will cover tips on getting the most out of your DNA results and the new tools we can use to discover more about our ancestry and DNA.

About the Presenter:

Lesley Anderson has worked for Ancestry.ca for over 14 years as their Canadian Spokesperson and has done numerous presentations for genealogical society and conferences across Canada, as well as TV and Radio appearances. She has been involved in the personal research of her family tree for over 50 years specializing in Canadian, British and Irish records. Her passion for genealogy has branched out to DNA genetic genealogy, teaching classes, speaking at seminars and conferences, consulting and doing research for others. For years she was well known for her computer and genealogy classes offered through the Ottawa Catholic Board Continuing Ed and her "field trips" to various archives and libraries. She was the Director of Education for the British Isles Family History Society of Greater Ottawa for many years and volunteered at the Ottawa Stake - LDS Family History Center. She gets great enjoyment out of helping new and experienced genealogists with their research.
