

Join us for
"Decoding the Dash"
by Dave Obee

Saturday, February 19, 2022
1 p.m. CST

Register in advance for this meeting:

<https://us02web.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZEseiqqTkpHdR9ZfiGX4i9m1KzGGDCGsOH> After registering, you will receive a confirmation email containing information about joining the meeting.

About the Presentation:

Decoding the Dash: Build the Stories of Their Lives

Grave markers often show the birth and death dates, with a dash in between the two dates. Those dates are usually the least interesting aspects of a person's life, because it is what is in between that counts. Lives are not measured by start and end dates; if so, they would have no meaning. This session uses examples to show what might happen when we start digging on the Internet, on the standard family history sites and beyond, and then dive into records in archives and libraries. It is easier than ever to tell the stories of your ancestors' lives.

About Dave Obee:

Dave Obee is a journalist and genealogical researcher who has written a dozen books and given more than 700 presentations at conferences and seminars in Canada, the United States and Australia since 1997.

He is Editor and Publisher of the Times Colonist in Victoria, British Columbia. He has worked as a journalist in British Columbia and Alberta since 1972.

In 2012, Dave was awarded an honorary doctorate of laws by the University of Victoria for his work as a historian, genealogist and journalist.

PROUDLY SUPPORTED BY

